KALBASKRAAL - 2007

Rotary Club of Newlands committed to erecting a sports club at the field which could also be used by the wider community for functions.

Kalbaskraal is a small community 15 km south of Malmesbury with a big heart. We got involved with their sports forum over 8 years ago. They played rugby and soccer on an open field (more like a dust bowl).

Together with Neill Zaaiman Construction, the field was leveled, grassed and an irrigation system put in place.

Today they have a 250m<sup>2</sup> club house with kitchen, change rooms, showers and toilets. 2007 saw the completion of the building with electricity and hot water geysers. Proud sponsors included Kwikot, Safmarine, Neill Zaaiman, Lafarge and Holcim in South Africa.

In 2008 Kalbaskraal rugby team reached the semi-finals in the Swartland division, demonstrating their commitment to their community and facilities.
